This lab provides access to and training in adapted equipment. Students can also use the lab to strengthen academic areas and work on class assignments.

Information for faculty and staff

In all likelihood, you will encounter a student with a disability in your classroom or on campus at one time or another. It is important that you are aware of the Disabled Student Programs and Services and the resources that are available to you and to students. We also offer consultation and inservice training for your PCC office or department. Please stop by or call the DSP&S office with any questions or concerns you may have.
