Person centered planning is an approach based upon a set of shared values that can be used to plan for the future with a person – not for them. Planning should involve all the people who are important in that person's life. In this entertaining and motivating presentation, Peter will share some ideas to help us keep people first, celebrate what is important, and most of all, promote quality in people's lives. You don't want to miss this presentation if you are a family member of someone with a developmental disability who is planning for:

- School
- Work
- Community Living
- Socializing
- Adulthood
- And much more...
